FATAL ACCIDENT.

Mason County Man's Mishap in Clark County.

FAINT HOPE OF HIS RECOVERY.

Special to Public Ledger.

WINCHESTER, Ky., April 9th.

A short time ago Isaac Pegge came from his home at Charleston Bottom to Clark county, where he has been at work handling tobacco.

Tuesday he was in Winchester and evidently had been drinking.

After dark he started up the C. and O. road towards Mt. Sterling and was struck by one of the passing trains, as it was found the next morning a few miles east of this city.

He was brought to the city and Drs. Shirley and Jeffries examined him.

He had been struck back by the left car near the base of the brain, the skull was fractured and brains were oozing out, the scalp was badly torn nearly to the forehead and the face near the left eye was terribly swollen and discolored.

He was about 80 years old and unmarried.

A brother, George Pegge, lives on Dr. Miller's farm, and is one of the bardest workers in the county and a good citizen.

Another brother, John Pegge, recently bought a farm near Grassy Lick, Montgomery county.

Strange as may seem, Isaac Pegge is still living, but there is little or no hope of his recovery.

THE MAID FOR ME.
For blue eyes or brown eyes I care not a fig;
But the maiden who touches my heart Is the one who is cheery and hopeful and glad;
Whose banter leaves never a smart.
A fair face may alter and bright eyes grow dim;
But always a maid that is gay,
Who smiles in the sunshine and laughs at the clouds, As glad in November as May,
Will prove a dear blessing wherever she goes,
And life will be sweet by her side;
And this is the maiden I'm longing to meet,
To woo and to win for my bride.

It's Like Walking In the Dark

to drop in any place you see the sign "Jeweler" when your watch don't keep time and you want it put in such condition that it will. Not one in every ten can make more than a bluff at cleaning it. It ought to be cleaned, of course, but cleaning is the smallest item of all that goes toward making a watch keep time. There are many fine adjustments that may have become deranged, or if some of the delicate parts are badly worn, it requires the highest grade of skill in watchmaking to repair it so it will keep perfect time.

A watch made right here—cut from the raw material, pronounced by experts to be equal to anything they have ever seen in finish and workmanship,—that we have carried for over ten years will sustain our claim to being the only place in Maysville where you can have your watch put in perfect order, no matter what it needs.

J. BALLENGER, Maysville, Ky.

REPRESENTATIVE WATSON of Ohio has introduced a bill which is deservedly gathering wide and influential support.
It provides for the erection in Washington by the government of a monument to the private soldier. It contemplates procuring designs from the best artists that the Nation can command, and executing the work on the most liberal scale.
The purpose is to make the monument a worthy exponent of the idea underlying its creation—so far as art can successfully embody so grand a conception, and approach the merits of those it is designed to honor. The bill provides for a Commission of those who served in the ranks to carry it into effect.

The well-known correspondent, Mr. W.
J. LAMPTON, suggests that this monument take the form of a grand Memorial Arch. His idea is that as nothing of the kind exists in the Capital, it would still further emphasize the purpose of honoring the Nation's soldiers if the effort should take this new and imposing form.

Such a result would carry out the conception of Mr. WATSON as a project of like nature, but on a more extended scale. It has passed the Senate, and has been favorably reported in the House.
The plan contemplates an immense structure reaching from the high ground at the old Naval Observatory site to Arlington. It will far surpass any other structure of the kind on the continent, and compare favorably with any in foreign lands.

In keeping with those projects of Representative WATSON and Senator SHER-

MAN, is the plan for a Hall of Patriotism, which is set forth in a bill drawn by Mr. R. L. WATSON, one of the most public-spirited men of the Capital. His bill provides that there be established in the city of Washington a public building to be known as the Hall of Patriotism, in which shall be placed from time to time such contributions from individuals of articles relating to the past or present history of the country, donations from states of battle flags, memorials, relics or statues of its distinguished citizens or such articles of historical value as Congress may from time to time direct.
The supervision of said building is to be under the control of a commission, composed of the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy and the Secretary of the Interior, and no article shall be placed in said building which is not acceptable to such commission or which may not be approved by them, unless by special authority of Congress.

A Democratic Congressman from North Carolina took the House of Representatives by storm a few days ago by declaring that ADAMS betrayed his Savior for $30. It was on the occasion of the discussion of an item in the Sunday Civil Appropriation Bill allowing $50,000 for the pay of Inspectors in the Internal Revenue Service. These "spotters," he declared, were an enemy of the public good, and he said further that that appropriation was the incentive for more harm than any lure that had passed him since the famous betrayal of the savior. From the tripod appeared in The Record it was found that the $30 had been changed into "thirty pieces of silver."

A good deal of disappointment has been experienced by managers of campaigns for the various Presidential candidates over the fact that after having spent a large sum of money to secure labeled buttons adorned with pictures of their favorite candidate, and after having distributed them so lavishly, comparatively few of them are worn. These buttons cost two cents each when ordered by the hundred thousand, and twenty-five per cent more when ordered by the thousand. An even 100,000 were struck off with McKinley's picture. But a few have arisen for the collection of these buttons as mementoes of this campaign.
These collections are being made without regard to any special candidate, and thousands of buttons so collected are being put away for safe-keeping.

West Woolwich, Me., is perhaps unique in not having a dog within the village limits.
Dr. Price of Montclair, France, has discovered a new medicine. He has found that by injecting glycerine under the skin in small doses operations can be performed without pain. A committee appointed by the Academy of Medicine has inquired into the value of the invention, and has recommended Dr. Price upon his achievement.

And Will Return to the Home in London.
Eng.—An English sailor released from the Penitentiary, London.
FRANKFORT, Ky., April 9.—Tommy Edwards, a young English sailor, was released from the Penitentiary Wednesday after having served a short term. Edwards is well comported, having rich parents in London, and a brother who is a prominent officer in the English army.
He left for his home Wednesday.
The story of his crime is one of disappointment, and that of a wayward young man who left home early in life to follow the sea. His parents knew nothing of his crime of violence.
SHOT HIS BROTHER.
Probably Fatal Result of a Squirrel Hunt in Wolfe County.
HAROLD GREEN, Ky., April 9.—George Dyer, of this county, while out hunting squirrels accidentally shot and fatally wounded his brother, Denny.
The younger brother was sent around a tree to make a noise in order to scare a squirrel to the other side. As the older brother raised his gun to fire, the younger brother, who was secretly discharged, about thirty shot took effect in the face of the younger Dyer. He is in a critical condition, and it is thought there is no chance of his recovery.
REDUCED HIS OWN SALARY.
Judge Bennett Thinks Campbell County is Paying Him Too Much.
NEWPORT, Ky., April 9.—A sensation was sprung in the Campbell county court fiscal court at Alexandria.
County Judge N. L. Bennett ordered that his own salary be cut down from $1,700 to $1,400. Judge Bennett says he gave the magistrates composing the court an opportunity to act, and, as they would not reduce his wages he did so himself. He says the county can not afford to pay so much.
His salary is $1,700.
ASHLAND, Ky., April 9.—Much of the timber that came out of the Big Sandy on the recent run has been sold already, and will be taken to the lower markets and mills. The remainder is on the hands of the Catlettsburg timber dealers, which has not been brought by the mill men of this section.
Prices have been rather low, and the saw-mill men may have in consequence a very good season. As usual, some timber have held over for better prices, and they will hardly be able to secure them.

Terrible Explosion in Ogden Canyon, Near Ogden, Utah.
Five Men Instantly Killed and Five Others Seriously Injured.
OGDEN, Utah, April 9.—At 5:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon an explosion of gas at Station 221 of the Ogden Electric Pipe line which extends about five miles from this city, resulted in the death of five men and the injury of five others.
The following is a list of the killed:
D. Moran, foreman; Jeff Ruby, Brig Kirchman, O. Weaver, Nate Kempton.
The injured are: G. N. Stetson, arm broken, internal injuries; Nick Leonard, sprained, cut, internal injuries; A.
Brusell, ribs broken, internal injuries; Alf. Ellingsworth, face cut, left leg broken and internal injuries; Sam Hadfield, internal injuries.
The catastrophe occurred just as the work for the day was about to close and final preparations were being harried. Foreman D. Moran, in charge, was tampering the fuse, from which the blast was ignited. When the smoke cleared away it was seen that men, rocks, curbs and debris had been hurled down the mountain side.
Foreman Moran, Kirchman, Weaver and Kempton were instantly killed. Ruby being taken to the hospital in this city. The cause of the explosion is supposed to have been what is known among rock workers as a "hot hole."
There were thirty or forty men at work nearby and the wonder is that more were not killed. Moran, Kirchman and Kempton were thrown over 200 feet, almost upon the bank of the river.
The dead and wounded were brought to this city Wednesday night.
MARQUIS YAMAGATA.
The Distinguished Field Marshal of Japan, Arrives in Omaha.
OMAHA, Neb., April 9.—The introduction of Marquis Yamagata, field marshal of Japan, to Omaha Wednesday afternoon, was marked by a steady downpour of rain. Brig. Gen. Cop-pinger, commander of the department of the Platte, and staff, and a guard of honor of 100 men from Fort Omaha, were in the marshal's train, which followed the marshal and staff to the military carriages in waiting, and the party was conveyed to the Millard hotel.
When the party arrived in the hotel retunda Gen. Coppinger said that he was glad to welcome Marquis Yamagata, and as a soldier to extend to him the congratulations of the army of the department of the Platte.
Field Marshal Yamagata bowed his acknowledgment, and in reply said that he was greatly pleased with the reception accorded him, but that he did not feel he deserved it.
The program for the marshal's entertainment has not been made out.
Gen. Coppinger stating that the marshal's visit to Omaha was followed entirely. There will be no parade at the fort, but in all probability he will be escorted to Fort Crook, the new post, in the morning.
